OBJECTIONS ANSWERED.

Criticism of the Federated Trades election law, the San Francisco Alta asks if the elimination of outside citizens at the polls, and adds:

Instead of encouraging a return to the voter of whole-sale violence, does not this law take a long step toward it, by leaving the voter entirely in the hands of election officers who represent the party in power?

We think not, but frankly confess that the bill would approach a much higher standard of excellence if it provided some means for the choosing of the officers of the polling booth other than now provided.

Our contemporary fears, and not without cause, that election boards under the new system will be furnished with fine opportunities for fraud; but they cannot be broader, or the facilities for defeating the will of the voter greater, than at present.

The proposed law will not, therefore, in that respect be retrogressive. On the contrary, it will be impossible under it for the election officials to drop into the box bundles of tickets as they now do, since they cannot have prepared tickets to match the stubs, if the officers issuing the ballot-books are at all wise in preparing them, except upon the assumption of collusion between that official and the election board, which is of course possible.

But even that possibility can be so remotely removed as to be no dangerous factor, by providing such device for the ballots that counterfeiting will be very difficult and improbable; or by such indorsement from across the stub and upon the ballots by the signatures of the election officers prior to the opening of the polls, that the introduction of a spurious ticket will, by comparison with the stub, restore the divided signatures of genuine, lead to its detection and rejection. Where there are but 200 or 300 votes in a precinct, it is not a task of any difficulty or one that will consume more than an hour's time for the election board to write their names across stub and ballot, and this will, so far as human device can, prevent corruption of the ballot.

It is the numbering of stub and ballot, and the clerical introduction of the ballot, when delivered to the voter, to which the Record-Union has objected, and pointed out as supremely perilous to the secrecy of the ballot. Substitute for these the present indorsement prior to the opening of the polls, provide for selection of judges, inspectors and clerks under judicial scrutiny, and after notice that the nominees may be challenged, or by other means least likely to be dominated by the corrupt element in politics, and the proposed law will be about as near perfection as can be expected at present.

FRANCE.

Boulangier's victory was not unexpected. All the opposing elements to republicanism united upon him. There was not so much of admiration for the noisy and bejeweled General as there was anxiety to seize upon the opportunity of his ambition to show hostility to the republic, and especially to the Floquet Ministry. The very classes which on Sunday commingled and went to the polls, touching elbows as they kept step to "Boulangier's March," will be ready at the first opportunity to clutch each other by the throat.

Anarchists, Communists, Royalists, Bourbons and Imperialists were for once engaged in a common cause, for the more easily to contend among themselves for the common obstacle to their ambitions, and removed. It is possible that President Carnot will accept the resignation of the Ministry, but it is improbable that he will call upon Boulangier to form a new Cabinet. The General will resign the seat to which he was elected on Sunday and retain that for the Department of the Nord, and we think he will be permitted to sit on his term, and that he will not, as he undoubtedly expects, be favored with a "call." Nor do we think that Sunday's election points to Boulangier as the leader of France. He does not possess the qualities of a true leader; he has personal magnetism, but that is all. He lacks worldly in brainy quality; he is not a good political seer; he is not invested with the dignity that leadership must wear. He is a nervous, intellectually ordinary, hesitating and ambitious man. He is a good soldier, doubtless, but it is rare, indeed, that the good soldier in France makes a superior Executive. President Carnot is of better timber than Boulangier; he will not scuttle the ship to oblige the blustering warrior, but will, if we read the past course of the man aright, keep a firm and steady hold upon the helm until the final election, by which time the allied mountaintops will have fallen apart and the Republicans will have been able to heal their internal divisions and once more present a united front and cast an overwhelming majority.

Letter From Sergeant Barwick.

RECORD-UNION: Noticing your editorial this morning regarding exception to the Southern portion of this State takes in reference to the advertising card "California on Wheels," I would remark that I cannot see how nor in what manner they can take exception against either the Southern Pacific Railroad Company or the State Board of Trade. It is a well known fact that the Southern Pacific, through T. H. Goodman, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, takes up daily ten thousand dollars and about a 100,000 from Redding, Sacramento, Fresno, Monterey and Los Angeles, the receipts of which show plainly that had it not been for the advertising of the Southern Pacific, the receipts of the Southern Pacific in reference to the Southern California would not send the record of temperature from as far south as Los Angeles to San Francisco as it now does. It is an indisputed fact, and figures show, that Los Angeles has a milder winter temperature than Sacramento, and if it was to be from Northern California, over the southern portion of the State, then a better record for this portion would have been secured by taking the temperature at Oroville and Marysville and not include the extreme northern portion of the Sacramento valley.

The following weather record was telegraphed East to the advertising card yesterday and to some or unprepared person would be a fair and honest record. It looks like the following one section over another: "The temperature for Redding to-day was 40° at clear, 34° at 10 A. M.; at 1 P. M. 40° at clear, 48° at clear; Monterey, 61° at clear, and Los Angeles, 55° at clear."

My experience teaches me that about all Southern California desired would be to give all records from all points in their section and ignore entirely any portion whatever of Central or Northern California, unless it was over the mountains near Fort Bidwell, where occasionally the temperature falls far below the freezing point. I think consistency is something that some of our southern neighbors are rather deficient in. Respectfully, etc., JAMES A. BARWICK, Sacramento, Jan. 29, 1889.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.] Paris, January 28.—Paris receives the election of Boulangier with more composure than expected. No signs of rage are shown. No sound of alarm has been given. Even the opposition press is calm. The Republican journals which so bitterly reviled the General and his party, and which predicted his defeat, are now so much as to admit that his party has not met with a reverse, serious indeed, but not so bad as to discourage the party. The Monarchist and Republican organs interpret the decisions each in their own way as favorable to their cause, but agree that it is the consummation of the parliamentary republic and they resigne their downward.

THE CORT D'OR REACTION. Paris, January 28.—The election of Deputies to fill the vacancy in the Chamber of Deputies for the Department of Cote d'Or, Barneyn (Rep.) received 2,334 votes and Prost (Radical) 2,784. Eleven thousand seven hundred and seven votes were cast for Boulangier.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY. PARIS, JANUARY 28.—The Republican journals, while admitting that the election of Boulangier is a serious reverse, declare that it is not sufficient to discourage the party, which must unite more closely against the threatened reaction. The Monarchist papers assert that the result of the election is the condemnation of a Parliamentary Republic, and that the Republic is a military dictatorship. The Radical papers declare that the election is a victory for the Republic, and that the Republic is a military dictatorship.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY. PARIS, JANUARY 28.—The Republican journals, while admitting that the election of Boulangier is a serious reverse, declare that it is not sufficient to discourage the party, which must unite more closely against the threatened reaction. The Monarchist papers assert that the result of the election is the condemnation of a Parliamentary Republic, and that the Republic is a military dictatorship. The Radical papers declare that the election is a victory for the Republic, and that the Republic is a military dictatorship.

THE CORT D'OR REACTION. Paris, January 28.—The election of Deputies to fill the vacancy in the Chamber of Deputies for the Department of Cote d'Or, Barneyn (Rep.) received 2,334 votes and Prost (Radical) 2,784. Eleven thousand seven hundred and seven votes were cast for Boulangier.

Petitions signed by the most conservative business men, merchants, etc., of San Francisco, Sacramento, San Diego and Los Angeles.

Therefore I say, and say it without fear of controversy, that never before has there been such a general demand for assistance as to the State of California.

There is no doubt that the industries and interests of the State are in a state of general uprisings of all, respectfully and respectfully asking to be appointed a board of thoroughly qualified and trustworthy gentlemen to carry the beneficial work into effect.

There are times in the affairs of men, when broad-minded statesmanship is demanded for producing great results. Let us hope that the time and opportunity now presented may not pass unimproved, and that the time taken at the hour may lead on to fortune for our State and all its people.

The New York Supreme Court has denied Colonel Bradley's motion to vacate the order extending the time for the Times and World to answer his libel complaints.
